

UNIVERSAL ANTIOXIDANTS - Capsules

UNIVERSAL ANTIOXIDANT capsule is a whey protein and garlic oil based food supplement which provides protection from free radicals. In addition to providing this front-line defense, the Universal Antioxidant repairs several types of molecular damage that are caused by oxidants and high glucose levels. The capsules also help in eradication of toxic materials from our body.

Active ingredients: Whey protein, Garlic oil.

Health benefits of these capsules include providing antimicrobial activity and immune modulation beside their potent antioxidant action. Whey protein has potent antioxidant activity, by contributing cysteine-rich proteins that aid in the synthesis of glutathione (GSH), a potent intracellular antioxidant. Garlic oil also has antioxidant properties which help scavenge harmful free radicals.

Free radicals are very reactive and can damage molecules unless they are detoxified by the antioxidants first. But because antioxidant molecules cannot be everywhere all the time, some free radicals will first encounter and react with proteins, resulting in the formation of damaged proteins. The Universal Antioxidant can remove the radical from the protein, restoring its original form and proper function. Moreover, the Universal Antioxidant provides detoxifying protection throughout the body.

With normal aging, the oxidation level of blood plasma increases, causing various molecules to get attached with each other. Our antioxidant capsule helps in separating these molecules from each other, reducing the effective level of oxidation towards that of a younger person.

The Universal Antioxidant has the ability to pass through all cell membranes and provide antioxidant activity inside cells, in the cell membrane, and outside of cells, thereby providing protection to more locations in the body than other antioxidants such as Vitamin C (which is excluded from membranes) or Vitamin E (which is only located in cell membranes). This dietary supplement can even cross the blood-brain barrier to protect the brain from oxidants.
